

Attention FDA

0547 '00 APR -6 P1:41

It came to my attention that the FDA is being asked to take away my right to sign a medical waiver before purchasing a hearing aid. Instead I would be forced to have a medical exam or hearing test. Here's my views and/or experiences on several related questions?

1. Should I be forced to have a medical exam and/or hearing test before purchasing a hearing aid? If so, should the FDA pay for the exam?

FDA Should have to Pay for the exam they would force me to take - Also traveling expense to see the Dr. Also for food and lodging, if it entails distance travel.

2. Some people are physically unable to drive to a doctor or hearing specialist, or have had bad experiences they don't want to repeat. For instance ...

If FDA wants it done their way they should have to send the Dr. to the residence Also deliver the aid to the Patients home.

3. Should the FDA take away my Constitutional Right, affirmed by the Supreme Court, to decide for myself my medical exams and treatment?

FDA should not be able to take away any rights from anyone

4. Should I be allowed to purchase hearing aids by mail as I choose?

This is why I gave up 2 years of my life to fight for what little freedom of choice we have left and now you can call me Veterans of foreign wars Post 9864 - Go home Mr Henney - a fake rep haunting or something - do not bother with Hearing aids - Thank you
